

To: Normanique Preston, chief people officer for Axiom Space

Subject: Public Relations Partnership Opportunity for Axiom

Dear Ms. Preston,

My name is Katrina Hook, and I am reaching out on behalf of Coastal Legacy Communications. We are an established public relations firm that specializes in strategic storytelling and creating a positive impact. Our team is inspired by Axiom Space's work toward building a self-sustaining commercial space station.

Axiom Space is producing groundbreaking innovations, including Axiom Station and the mission for January 2027. CLC wants to support you, and we believe there is limitless potential to strengthen stakeholder engagement.

CLC focuses on making technical achievements accessible for audiences and securing media opportunities with investors, partners, and the public.

Our team recently promoted Travis Bradberry's and Jean Greaves' new book "Emotional Intelligence 3.0," with 200,000 presale purchases.

We know that if given the opportunity, we would aid Axiom Space in bridging the relationship between the stars and the people.

I would appreciate the opportunity to schedule a brief conversation meeting to explore a possible partnership. Feel free to connect with us at hookk@coastallegacypr.com. We look forward to connecting with you.

Sincerely,

Katrina Hook

Public Relations Manager

Coastal Legacy Communications